

FAVORED HEALTH

“Our commitment to health and our responsibility to the environment are making us innovative and preferred leaders in the medical and agricultural communities.”

~ Jane Pickel, President

About the Founders

Bruce and Jane Pickel are the founders of Favored Health. As grain-producing farmers and medical-device developers, Bruce and Jane have successfully brought both fields together. Using corn as a natural bio-polymer in the development of it's innovative and preferred medical devices, Favored Health is leading the way to improved health for people and the environment.
